Big Summer Art School to Be At Kittery Point

Kittery, Me., May 1.
At the Second Christian church on Sunday the services will be in the following order: At 10.30 a. m. preaching by the pastor, Rev. Edward H. Macy, subject of sermon, "Secrets of Ingathering," followed by the regular session of the Bible schools. The Junior League will meet in the vestry at three o'clock, led by Miss Estella Kramer. At the six o'clock service of the Christian Endeavor Society the subject of the meeting will be "Life Lessons for me from the Book of Isaiah," and will be led by Rev. E. H. Macy. At the seven o'clock service the subject of the pastor's sermon will be "Paul at Cyprus."

On Monday evening, Riverside lodge Independent Order Odd Fellows will hold its regular meeting in Wentworth hall.

Henry Thompson has moved his family into the house on Otis avenue recently occupied by Charles Luts from the Johnson house on Pine street.

Miss Eva Langton of Butler's crossing is reported to be ill.

Mrs. Leslie Long has returned from a visit with relatives in Massachusetts.

At the dance of the H. G. L. club given on Friday evening in Frisbee's hall at the Point, Luts and Donnell furnished the music.

This is certainly cold, raw weather and is hard in order this time of the year.

The services on Sunday at the Second Methodist church will be in the following order: At 10.30 a. m. preaching by the pastor, Rev. Daniel Onstott, subject of sermon at that time, "The Christian Index to Character." Sunday school at 12. At the five o'clock vesper service the subject of the pastor's sermon will be "Christ and the Gospels." Special music at this service. Epworth League will meet in the vestry at six o'clock.

Today is May day and May baskets are in order. If this weather keeps on we hope someone will hand us a

MASTER ELDREDGE SHAW SEIZED FOR HIS FATHER

Mrs. Nettie Eldredge Shaw with Her Chauffeur in California

Dispatches from Santa Barbara, Calif., state that Mrs. Nettie E. Shaw, of Portsmouth, wife of James F. Shaw, a Massachusetts State Senator, was on Friday found occupying a room in a cheap lodging house with H. Keno Marble, formerly employed by the Shaws as a chauffeur. Detectives employed by Senator Shaw traced the woman there with the primary object of obtaining possession of the woman's 11 year old son, Eldredge, who was found in an adjoining room.

The dispatches state that Mrs. Shaw, who before her marriage was a daughter of H. F. Eldredge and a niece of Frank Jones, both of Portsmouth, appeared to be contented with her bare quarters. It was learned that the funds of the couple were so meagre that the woman has been spending long hours every day and night selling tickets at a dime theatre conducted by Marble.

Mrs. Sha was in bed when the detectives forced their way into the room. She consented to sign a release on her son, but later repented of the act and announced that she would appeal to her relatives for money with which to fight her husband.

Both Mrs. Shaw and Marble admitted their identity. Mrs. Shaw intimated that her parents knew where she had been ever since she left her husband a year ago. She stated that they came to Santa Barbara several months ago and visited the theatre which Marble runs.

The discovery of the couple came about through the boy, Eldredge, who had been, his mother says, writing regularly to his father, Eldredge. Following the signing of a release by Mrs. Shaw, the boy remained in the custody of the chief of police. The entrance to the apartments of the woman and her former chauffeur was well planned and quickly conducted.

After a Long Chase

A private detective from Boston and Louis Field, for many years a colored butler in the Shaw home, had traced the woman to Pasadena, and there secured the clues that led to Santa Barbara.

On Thursday night the La Petite Theatre, on lower State street, was watched and the couple followed to the Tremont house, where they were registered as man and wife, under the name of the former chauffeur. All was quiet when the chief of police, Mr. Shaw's attorney, two detectives and a policeman made their way to the door of the apartment on the second floor. After some delay Marble responded to the rapping at the door and the party filed into the apartments.

Mrs. Shaw at once admitted her identity, and when Louis F. Smith, Mr. Shaw's attorney, presented the document releasing the boy she, after a little hesitation, signed it. But before they had left the room the woman indicated a desire to communicate with her folks and Mr. Smith offered his services in seeing to it that a message be immediately despatched to Portsmouth. Mrs. Shaw wrote the message while in bed.

Scrapping the Expenses

The addition of some words to the message caused Marble to manifest a penurious disposition. The supplementing of a sentence meant an extra cost of about $1.50. Digging down into a canvas bag, which evidently contained the receipts of the moving picture, show on the night previous, he growled "If you get any more there won't be enough to pay the rent."

In the meantime the boy, who occupied a room adjoining, had been awakened. While being dressed by mother, he was informed that he would have to leave her. He commenced to weep. He recognized the butler, and from this he evidently surmised that a trip back to Boston was in prospect.

"I don't want to go back East," he said, as he laid his sobbing head on the shoulder of the mother.

Then the leave taking took place, and this was the first time during the scene that Mrs. Shaw manifested any emotion. She wept with her son, but asked him not to be afraid, that he would be well taken care of and that they would surely be reunited in a short time.

When asked point blank by Attorney Smith if she did not appreciate the fact that her cohabitation with Marble made her liable to arrest, she answered in the affirmative without any hesitation.

When Mrs. Shaw left her husband in Boston nearly two years ago it was a sensation for many a day there. Mrs. Shaw went to the home of her father and remained there for several months, and Marble remained in the employ of Shaw as his driver.

The mother had the boy with her at this time. But then Mrs. Shaw and the boy disappeared and this resulted in another sensation in Boston. The sensation was further intensified when Marble also disappeared.

Mr. Shaw employed a private detective to take up the search. It is believed that the boy, unknown to his mother, communicated with the father, and that this led to the late developments.

The detective located Mrs. Shaw at 421 Arroyo terrace, Pasadena, where she occupied a handsome home. Interesting information was secured by a man in the guise of a census taker. What mystified the detective for some time was her frequent spells of absence from Pasadena, but she was shadowed to and her connection with Marble and his 10-cent moving picture show established.

To the members of the party who entered the apartments in the Tremont on Friday, it is hard to understand how a woman of Mrs. Shaw's breeding could see an affinity in a man like Marble.

In Pasadena Mrs. Shaw is said to be known by her real name, but while in Santa Barbara she is claimed to have registered as Mrs. Marble and the boy has also given that name there, under instructions from his mother.

Mrs. Shaw has received a wire from her father that he would leave Portsmouth in time to be there Wednesday.

They Had a Society Wedding

One of the biggest society events that ever took place in Massachusetts was the marriage of Miss Eldredge and "Jim" Shaw, the two having first met at the home of the Eldredges at Chatham, on Capt. Cod. It was a brilliant event and friends said they were well mated and it would be a happy union.

So it seemed, and for years not the breath of suspicion was heard regarding their domestic affairs, until society was startled about two years ago by the report that they had separated. Mrs. Shaw had left their Brookline residence and went to live with her parents in Portsmouth. The reason for this separation has never been learned.

Previous Attempts to Get Boy

Then came the attempts to wrest the boy from Mrs. Shaw's possession, both of which failed. It was rumored that divorce proceedings would be instituted after the first attempt, but the papers have never been filed to date.

The seizure of the boy on Friday was the third attempt, to gain possession of him. In October, 1907, three men caught the lad in a crowd at Springfield. The attempt was almost successful, but Mr. Eldredge, the grandfather, frustrated the would-be kidnapers and placed the child in an automobile and carried him to his home in Portsmouth.

Another attempt was made in December of the same year at the Eldredge home in Portsmouth, but the men were outwitted. Detectives were employed to watch the premises and the mysterious men finally departed from the vicinity.

A truce was patched up for a time and attorneys for both sides agreed upon a tutor for the child while he was in the custody of Mrs. Shaw. Then information reached the Eldredges that Mr. Shaw was planning to bring habeas corpus proceedings to gain possession of his son.

To prevent such proceedings the Eldredges decided to move to California. Just a year ago Mr. and Mrs. Eldredge, with their daughter, Mrs. Shaw, and their chauffeur, H. Keno Marble, and little Eldredge Shaw left Portsmouth for Pasadena. Fearing that papers would be served upon them if they entered Massachusetts, they went a round about way on the trip. They first went to Greenland and then drove across country to Manchester, where they boarded a Canadian Pacific train for the west.

The parents of Mrs. Shaw remained in the west but a few months, but visited her again last winter, returning to the east about three months ago.

Eldredge's Start for California

On Friday night Mr. and Mrs. Eldredge were in Boston and it is believed they are on their way to the west again, to aid their daughter.

THE COAL SITUATION

President Lewis of the United Mine Workers of America is just now the subject of considerable unfavorable comment—and some of the newspapers are criticizing him as a man who bit off more than he could chew, and who has been the subject of an inglorious defeat. At the same time we are all rejoicing that there is to be no big strike of the coal miners this year.

The criticism of Mr. Lewis would seem to be unwarranted, however. It is true that he has not secured the increase in wages, and it is also true that he has not secured a recognition of the union. But, under his leadership, the men have secured substantial gains in the way of regulations regarding the handling of the coal in the different stages from the rock to the car on which it is shipped to some city or tide water.

The mine operators were prepared for a strike, but the miners were not.

The public at large did not believe that the men had grievances sufficient enough to warrant them creating a famine in one of the necessities of life. Therefore the coal strikers would be sure in advance of the lack of that moral public support which experience has proven is necessary to the successful maintenance of a strike.

The temptation was strong for Mr. Lewis to take upon himself the temporary glory and fame of a strike leader, and the pressure must have been powerful in that direction.

The miners make a gain, and they are to be congratulated that they have had a leader with brains enough to take what could be had without fighting. It was one of those cases where pride was likely to cause a man to fail to grasp an advantage which might be had for the asking. Mr. Lewis is probably not the equal of John Mitchell as a leader of men, but he is evidently not the man to throw away a half loaf in order to make a fight for a whole loaf, when the prospects are for defeat in the fight.

Meanwhile let us hope that coal will not be any higher.

STATE COLLEGE

The cold weather has put a damper on the usual baseball practice at New Hampshire college the past week. However, Coach McGraw has had the squad in the cages each afternoon during the week, and as much as could be expected under the circumstances has been accomplished by the men.

The team left on the Saturday morning train east for Waterville, Me., where it will meet the Colby nine. Captain Kennedy hopes to put up a better showing than last week against the strong Colby aggregation. The lineup has not yet been announced.

The Senior in Heredity and Evolution held its regular meeting in the library on Thursday evening. Prof. William H. Pew spoke on "Mendel's Law," and Jasper F. Eastman on "Xenia."

Issues a Poster of Warning

Railway
Accident
Prevention

The following poster has been placed in the Portsmouth and other railway depots:

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS.
William H. Tatt, President. Robt. W. deForest, Vice President.
Chairman of Central Committee, Maj. Gen'l. Geo. W. Davis, U. S. Army.
Charles L. Magee, Secretary.

Rules for the Prevention of Railroad Accidents:
Never cross a railway at a grade crossing before making sure that no trains are approaching.
Never jump on or off cars in motion.
Never stand on platform of cars in motion.
Never put head or other part of person out of car window.
Never cross in front or rear of standing or moving train without first making sure that there is no danger from some other train.
Never disobey the cautionary rules for safety posted at stations, crossings, etc.

Never forget that carelessness on your part in regard to these precautions not only endangers your life, but the happiness and welfare of those most dear to you.

"Prevention of accidents and injuries by all legitimate means is a personal duty which everyone owes not to himself alone, but also to his family."

NEW YORK ACTRESS

Parisian Sage Made Her Hair Grow
Two Inches in Seven Months

Of all the women in the world, an actress most ardently desires beautiful and luxuriant hair. And when her hair begins to fall out she becomes anxious and intelligently seeks for a preparation that will stop the havoc, grow new hair and give life and beauty to the old.

Jean Sawyer, a clever, handsome actress, has this to say of Parisian Sage:

"To whom it may concern: Have tried most every hair tonic available, and at last Parisian Sage was recommended to me, and as a last recourse used it to my entire satisfaction. My hair has stopped falling, dandruff stopped, and my hair has grown two inches in the last seven months. It is the best and only sure cure for thin and short hair I know."—Jean Sawyer, 59 East 9th St., New York City.

Parisian Sage is the scientific hair restorer that has created such a sensation since its introduction into America about two years ago. It is such a quick acting prescription that every agent who sells it will guarantee it to cure dandruff, stop falling hair, splitting hair, and itching scalp in two weeks, or money back.

It is the most delightful hair dressing in the world, and is highly prized by society women and actresses who have luxuriant and glorious hair.

It will turn harsh, lustreless hair into soft, silky and luxuriant hair in a few days.

G. E. Philbrick is the agent for Parisian Sage in Portsmouth and he sells it for 50 cents a large bottle, the largest bottle for the price on the market.

fur coat instead of a May basket. For all of the latest local news order the Herald delivered at your home for three months for one dollar.

There seems to be several sales of property in town lately through the local agency of Mr. George Athorne. Several weddings are scheduled for next month.

The seventh grade of the Wentworth grammar school was very pleasantly entertained on Friday evening by their teacher, Miss Ethel M. Farwell at her boarding place on Love Lane at Mrs. Charles Trafton's. After a very pleasant time playing games, etc., refreshments were served and the party broke up at an early hour, after spending a most enjoyable evening.

A regular meeting of St. Aspinquid Tribe, Improved Order of Red Men, was held on Friday evening in Grange Hall.

Mr. Waldo W. Ladd is passing today and Sunday with his family on Government street, after being out of town with the telephone linemen crew, repairing the lines, for the past two weeks.

Kittery Point

All idea of attempting to tow the schooner (Herman F. Kimball) to Rockland for repairs at present, have been abandoned since the fire revived on Friday morning. She is again at her old berth in Spruce Creek and tightly sealed up. The tug Portland, which came here to take her away, will proceed, with clearing weather to Boston and tow the five master Fuller Palmer to Bath for repairs.

It seemed like "carrying coals to New Castle" when the tug Portsmouth left here Friday with the barge Hampton in tow, laden with brick for Bath. There are many brick yards on the Kennebec, and barges of the Piscataqua Navigation Company, have loaded many cargoes there for the westward.

A gang of ninety Italians arrived on Friday for the Atlantic Shore line and were quartered in the old buildings on the government reservation. They will be employed for the next few months in grading and renewing the road bed of the line, a work which is certainly badly needed. It is proposed to reduce by fifteen minutes under the summer schedule the running time between York Beach and Portsmouth, but unless some of the innumerable curves are removed it is hard to see how this can be done without disastrous consequences.

An unruly pupil at the Horace Mitchell school was on Friday afternoon subjected to a little disciplinary treatment by Principal Hodgdon, with the result that his enraged parents demanded his immediate dismissal.

However, as there seemed to be no sufficient reason for doing so until the close of the session, the principal declined to accede, and the culprit was removed bodily by his father. Many absurd and exaggerated reports of the mode of punishment employed have been circulated, but it is safe to say that there was no excess of severity. In fact, since Mr. Hodgdon's arrival there has been a marked improvement in many ways at the school, and his popularity would seem to be good proof that no undue harshness has been practiced.

According to advertisements being published in Boston papers there will be a novelty in the local summer colony known as the Kittery Point Sketch and Co-operative Housekeeping club, membership to include rooms and general oversight in work and instruction. Kittery Point incidentally gets a little free advertising, for the country hereabout is described as very paintable and beautiful. Crockett's Neck will be the home of the club.

Schooners Mary E. Pennell, Frey, Stockton Springs for New York; Portland Packet, Gardiner, Portland for Boston; and Lillian, Robbins, Machias for Hingham, all lumber loaded arrived Friday. The Lillian has the cargo of the British schooner Mary E. recently wrecked at Machias.

Within the next two weeks a debate to decide which were the most important events of the Civil war will be held at the Horace Mitchell school, and civil war veterans will be invited to participate. The opposing sides will argue respectively for Sherman's March to the sea and the battle of Gettysburg. Impartial and interested parties will be selected as judges.

An arrival Friday was the famous five masted schooner Governor Ames, Capt. King, 14,200 tons of coal from Newport News for Portsmouth. This is her first visit here in several years, though in her palmy days she made many trips to the Piscataqua.

On one occasion she was towed into port by the tiny steamer Samuel Butterfield, whose feat was town talk for some time. The Ames was launched at Waldoboro, Me., in November 1887, and until the launching of the John B. Prescott in 1898, was the only five master in existence. Today there are 35. On her first voyage she took a cargo of coal to San Francisco, and since then the schooner Kineo is the only five master to round Cape Horn.

Though twenty-two years old, the Ames' sheer is as graceful as ever, and she is good apparently for many more years of service. She is of 1507 net tonnage and one of the smallest of the rig now afloat.

The Horace Mitchell school baseball team plays the Haven school of Portsmouth today on Gerrish field, while next Saturday a return game will be played at Portsmouth Plains. Arrangements are being made for other games with Portsmouth teams.

Miss Freda Emery was on Friday the donor of a handsome May basket to Principal J. W. Hodgdon of the Horace Mitchell school, for which token he is heartily appreciative.

The new twenty-five horse power Ferro gasolene engine for the speed launch of Frank E. Gatchell and Cecil L. Seaward arrived today from the factory, and will be installed immediately. The new flyer will be in commission in about two weeks.

The barge No. 12 arrived Friday from Baltimore with 1000 tons of coal for Portsmouth. She was towed from Boston by the tug Charles T. Gallagher. Barge Ephraim, which has discharged coal at Portsmouth, left for Philadelphia in tow of the tug Patience.

The storm of Friday evening had no terrors for the large crowd which attended the first dance given by the newly organized H. G. L. club in Frisbee's hall. The second in the series will probably be held in three weeks. Punch was served at intermission. Music was supplied by Lotts and Donnell.

The five master Gardiner G. Deering finishes discharging her cargo of coal at Railroad wharf, Portsmouth, tonight and will sail for Philadelphia to load for a return voyage.

Rev. J. W. Scribner will occupy the pulpit of the Free Baptist church on Sunday.

Miss Florence E. Austin has returned from a short visit to Burlington, Jacksonville and Sheldon Falls, Vt.

Mrs. Daniel Frisbee, her son Byron and daughter Eleanor, returned Friday from a short visit with friends in South Berwick.

Morley Shorey of the gypsy moth force, who has been stationed in Hingham, N. H., during the winter, has returned here and will be employed on the York force. He will reside with Mrs. Albert C. Cobb.

Friday's easterly storm drove the fleet of fishermen out of the bay, some finding shelter at the Isles of Shoals and others running for this harbor.

There will be a christening at the Congregational church on Sunday. Chaplain Curtis H. Dickinson will perform the service.

The "Know How"

There are just about two things which are responsible for the difference between a good job of paint job and a poor one. The first is, pure white lead and linseed oil, and the second is the "know how" of using them.

As for the first—I use Red Seal White Lead (Dutch Boy Paint) trade mark. A for the second—I can refer you to John E. Holmes, who can tell you just how to do it. Can I do some painting for you? Glad to estimate.

Drop me a card.

ASSAULTED WITH GAS PIPE

Colored Steward on Battleship Wisconsin Assaulted and Robbed While He Lay Asleep in His Hammock.—Several Colored Mess Attendants in Irons Charged With the Assault.

A colored steward named Taylor on the battleship Wisconsin was badly used up and robbed while asleep in his hammock on the ship shortly after two o'clock Friday morning.

The story as far as can be learned was that Taylor had a bunch of money coming to him and on Friday he drew several hundred dollars from the ship's bank. This was known to the colored mess attendants and it is alleged that the assault was committed by these men on Taylor as he lay asleep in his hammock.

A section of gas pipe was used and Taylor was badly cut up about the head and face. His cries aroused the ship and an effort was made to get the guilty parties. Up to last night several of the mess attendants were in irons charged with the assault and robbery for it is alleged that some of Taylor's money was secured in the mix up.

Taylor yesterday was able to be about the ship but with his head and face all bandaged up as the result of the assault.

An investigation and a general court martial will follow.

CONVICT NO. 5874
Convicted on Circumstantial Evidence and Service, Twenty Years

Convict No. 5874 is the title of the feature picture at Music Hall for Friday and Saturday. This is one of the best of the Lubin dramas and this much advertised picture is finely acted and intensely interesting. The other pictures are "Greed for Gold" and "Sponge Fishes of Cuba," both good ones.

The vaudeville acts Hilton and Hood and Lew Hilton got a good hand for their efforts on Friday night.

Art Spaulding is singing "Brown Eyes" and the big New York hit "To the end of the world with you."

Next week the headliners will be Juniper and Hayes, a colored team. They will be remembered by their work at the big P. A. C. fair at the old machine shop when they headed the bill.

Other features will be additional vaudeville acts and new pictures and songs.

Green Acre Fellowship to Have a Houseboat

Vandalism At Waiting Room of the Electric Railway

Eliot, Me., May 1.—The old Green Acre Steamboat Dick R. is in the hands of Frank D. Staples for remodeling into a house boat for the use of members of the Green Acre Fellowship. The boat is thirty-six feet over all and is a staunch craft. She has been dismantled of her machinery.

Chester McKenney is to move into Mrs. Benjamin Tuthery's house where Arthur Place moved out.

Willis M. Hayden has broken up housekeeping and is boarding with Mrs. C. C. Ives.

Mrs. John H. Wilson and Miss Wentworth of Dover have been the guests of his sister, Mrs. Ben D. Goodwin.

Herbert Nelson has bought a new horse, his fourth horse trade in ten days.

Sunday will be communion Sunday at the Congregational church.

Rev. William B. DeGroot, the new East Eliot Methodist pastor, arrives today from Kezar Falls, and will occupy the pulpit on Sunday.

Some very bad vandalism has been perpetrated at the electric railway waiting room near Green Acre, by the breaking and disfiguring of window glass, and the saubing of the interior.

YOUR COMPLEXION

As a complexion remedy, nothing yet discovered can equal the following prescription in quickly and permanently removing pimples, eczema, blackheads, blotches and kindred diseases of the skin; it draws to the surface and quickly destroys all poisonous matter which has accumulated, leaving the tissues of the skin in a perfectly healthy condition. It will also prevent and cure chapped hands, lips and face. This is the prescription, which can be filled at any drug store. Clear skin, half ounce. Either one ounce. Alcohol seven ounces. Mix, shake well and apply to the face night and morning, allowing it to remain at least ten minutes, the longer the quicker results you will have. In extreme cases apply four or five times daily. The filmy powder deposit on the face may be wiped off after a reasonable time. Do not use soap instead wash the face with oatmeal and a little powdered orris root tied up in a cheese cloth bag, and no matter how bad your face is, or what the cause may have been, this will surely cure it. This prescription is perfectly harmless and can be used on the most delicate skin.

The Annual Fair of the Unitarian Church

Rural Free Delivery Replaces Kensington Postoffice

The Grange Is to Hold a Discussion of Woman Suffrage

Exeter, May 1. Exeter's tax rate is this year $22 on $1000. A $23 rate was expected. The regular meeting of Orient chapter, No. 22, O. E. S. will be held at Masonic hall, Wednesday evening, May 6. The Grand Matron, Mrs. Alice J. Mitchell, of Plymouth, will make her annual visitation. Supper will be served at 6.30.

Following is the programme for Gilman Grange next Monday evening: Discussion, "Woman Suffrage," affirmative, Charles H. Knight, Dana W. Baker, negative, Edward A. Richards and others; musical programme in charge of Miss Elizabeth H. Bowker. Mr. Leonard F. Smith and Miss Frances E. Smith have given the Cottage hospital $20, the amount of a bill for plank.

Mr. Charles A. Thorp is recovering from a broken rib and other injuries sustained in a fall recently at the Bartlett grocery.

Ernest W. Hutchins is to move his household goods to Norway, Me., and go to housekeeping there. Mr. Hutchins has been appointed night policeman at Norway.

The event of today is the fifty-fourth annual May fair of the Unitarian church in the town hall. It will be called the Bazaar of Nations, which will be set off to a more attractive appearance by special decorations by a professional decorator. Eight different countries will be represented. Dinner from 12 till 2 o'clock; and supper from 6 to 8. The afternoon entertainment consists of dancing by the young people, under the direction of Mrs. Julia Chase Moses of Portsmouth. A special feature will be the Bacchante dance from Ben Hur by fourteen young ladies. The Pentucket orchestra of Haverhill, Mass., will give a concert during the afternoon and evening. General dancing will follow in the evening.

Kensington's postoffice, Herbert M. Prescott postmaster, today went out of existence and the last trip was made on Friday over the star route between Exeter and Kensington. Rural Free Delivery route 2 from Exeter postoffice was inaugurated today. The carrier leaves Exeter postoffice at 9 a. m. and the route, about 25 miles, to the Herbert M. Prescott store in Kensington, thence to Wedgewood's corner in Exeter, down Hampton Falls road to the Mathew Pike farm, thence by a cross road to the Hampton road back to Exeter village, up Epping road to Birch road corner, through the cross road to Marshall's corner in Brentwood and thence back to Exeter postoffice. Efforts are being made to secure a station of Exeter postoffice in Kensington. That town will now be served by four routes, starting from Hampton Falls, Amesbury, Kensington and Exeter.

The Princeton freshman game was obliged to be called off, owing to the rainy weather. The freshmen arrived on the 10.30 train Friday and remained till 6 o'clock.

Manrice J. THE FRANKLIN MILITIA

Laconia, May 1.—A delegation of Franklin citizens came here Friday afternoon to wait upon Governor Quincy and request his excellency to allow the Nesmith Rifles to remain a part of the New Hampshire National Guard service.

Governor Quincy listened courteously to the deputation and at the conclusion of the interview announced that he would suspend the order for disbandment until he could make a further investigation.

The Franklin people stated that a delegation of 500 men could easily have been raised to come to Laconia to plead for their old company, which was organized thirty-one years ago.

TO ROCKEFELLER'S CHURCH

It is believed that Rev. Dr. W. W. Dastard, pastor of the Dudley street Baptist church, Roxbury, will accept the call to the pastorate of the Euclid Avenue Baptist church of Cleveland, O., one of the largest and most influential churches in the United States, and generally known as the John D. Rockefeller church.

Although Dr. Dastard had not definitely decided today what action to take, yet it is the general impression among his friends that he will accept the call, say the Boston papers.

LIQUOR LICENSES RECEIVED

Two Hotels Get More Liberal Licenses

All of the liquor dealers who applied for a liquor license received their necessary permit to do business this morning. The licenses came on the evening Concord mail and there was an anxious and interesting gathering of dealers at the post office shortly after six o'clock waiting for the mail to be sorted. They could not conceal their satisfaction when the official looking document was handed them.

There were three dealers at least who did not apply for a renewal of their license and they closed their places of business last night at eleven o'clock. All the others who did apply were granted the license.

The Hotel National and Rockingham were granted more liberal licenses than former years. From now on both hotels will be permitted to serve liquor with meals in the dining rooms at all hours, that is between six and eleven o'clock, and on Sundays and holidays during the meal hours. Previous to this year the two hotels have only been permitted to serve with meals in the dining rooms during meal hours.

WORK THAT TELLS

Plenty of It Has Been Done Right Here in Portsmouth

Cures that last are cures that tell. To thoroughly know the virtues of a medicine you must investigate the cures and see if they prove permanent. Doan's Kidney Pills stand the test, and plenty of proof exists right here in Portsmouth. People who testified years ago to relief from back ache, kidney and urinary disorders now declare that relief was permanent and the cure perfect. How can any Portsmouth sufferer longer doubt the evidence?

Thomas Entwistle, City Marshal 47 Cabot St., Portsmouth, N. H., says: "I think as highly of Doan's Kidney Pills today as I did years ago when I first used them. In 1897 I was in a bad way, as a result of kidney trouble and though I had repeatedly tried remedies in an effort to find relief, I was unsuccessful. When Doan's Kidney Pills came to my attention, I procured them at Phillips' drug store and began their use as directed. In a short time I was rid of my trouble and felt better in every way. I occasionally have a slight aching in my back, but at such times a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills never fail to give me prompt relief."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

AWARD OF THE PITTSBURG PRIZES

The Boston Transcript has the following to say of the award of the Carnegie medal.

Mr. Tarbell, taker of many prizes, adds to his collection the first class gold medal and $1500 at the Carnegie Institute exhibition in Pittsburgh thus conferring the deep-seated conviction of New York artists that there exists a conspiracy to give all the best things to Boston painters. "Letters to the editor of the Evening Post are now in order protesting against the subservience of Pittsburgh to the 'Boston clique.' How the Boston men fixed the jury on award this year must ever remain a mystery, since there was not a New England man on the jury. The guilty conspirators were Alfred East of London, George Breiner of Amsterdam, John W. Alexander of New York, William M. Chase of New York, Will C. Robinson of New York, Ben Foster of New York, William L. Lathrop of Pennsylvania, Leonard Ochtman of New York, Edward W. Redfield of Pennsylvania and W. Elmer Schofield of Pennsylvania. It is perhaps a still greater proof of the diabolical depth of the wiles of the Boston clique that the purposes, the fiendish purposes, we may say, of these Machiavellian schemers were effected without any of the Boston artists being on hand to openly air in the plot. It looks as if New York had been betrayed again by her representatives, Messrs. Alexander, Foster, Chase, Robinson and Ochtman. Of course there must have been better pictures than 'The Girl Crocheting' from some of the New York painters in the exhibition. It is a manifest case of undue influence, of hypnosis or something.

The other awards at the Pittsburg exhibition were as follows: Medal of the second class (silver) carrying with it an award of $1000, to George Sauter of London, for his painting 'The Bridal Morning.' Medal of the third class (bronze), carrying with it an award of $500, to Bruce Crane of New York, for his painting 'November Hills.' Honorable mentions to Elizabeth Sparhawk Jones of Philadelphia for her painting 'In Rittenhouse Square,' to Arnesby Brown of Cornwall, Eng., for his painting 'The Gate,' to E. A. Hornel of Scotland for his painting 'Amusement,' and to Stanhope Forbes of Penzance, Eng., for his painting 'The Village Industry.'

Welcome Words To Women

If, you are an intelligent thinking woman, in need of relief from weakness, nervousness, pain and suffering, then it means much to you that there is one tried and true honest square-deal medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, sold by druggists for the cure of woman's ills. The makers of

for the cure of weak, nervous, run-down, over-worked, debilitated, pain-racked women, knowing this medicine to be made up of ingredients, every one of which has the strongest possible endorsement of the leading and standard authorities of the several schools of practice, are perfectly willing, and in fact, are only too glad to print, as they do, the formula, or list of ingredients, of which it is composed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper. Is this not a significant fact worthy of careful consideration?

Women use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in preference to all other advocated medicines sold by druggists for their peculiar weaknesses and ailments because it is

THE ONE REMEDY which contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs, is not anything like advertised secret compounds or patent medicines.

THE ONE REMEDY for women devised by a regularly graduated physician of vast experience in woman's ailments and carefully adapted to her delicate organism.

THE ONE REMEDY good enough that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on its outside bottle-wrapper.

It's foolish—often dangerous to be over-persuaded into accepting a secret nostrum in place of this time-proven medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

WITH THE BOWLERS

CATHOLIC UNION WON FROM ELKS IN CLUB BOWLING LEAGUE.

The Catholic Union defeated the Elks in the Club bowling league at the Elks alleys on Friday evening securing three out of the four points winning the first and third strings and the total pin fall. Both teams had one substitute for their regular players, but the rolling was keen. In the first string the Catholic Union took the string with 16 pins, but lost the second by 22 giving the Elks a lead of six pins, but they were unable to hold this for the Catholic Union with the exception of Capstick rolled a big string and took the match.

McMullin was high string for the match and with Stetson tied single high string.

EPHING

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Edgerly were obliged to shorten their visit Washington, D. C., on account of Mrs. Edgerly's illness and they returned on Friday.

Mrs. Frank Chase is the guest of her sister Mrs. Samuel Chase, of Exeter.

Monday afternoon at the Methodist church was held the funeral of Miss May Sue Burnham who died at the home of her brother in law in Portsmouth after a long illness. The services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. G. W. Jones. John E. Shaw officiated at the organ and rendered sweet and appropriate music. The church choir sang two selections one of which was "Gathering home from every land." The profusion of flowers which adorned the casket, tables and pulpit testified to the esteem in which Miss Burnham was held. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends.

Miss Fannie Cate spent a few days at home recently.

Principal Frederick T. Johnson as ill several days last week, but has now returned to his school duties.

Mrs. Rebecca Ordway who is over eighty years old, but has been very active, is quite ill.

RECEIPT THAT CURES Weak Men—Free

Send Name and Address Today—You Can Have It Free and Be Strong and Vigorous.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of vigor, weakened manhood, failing memory and lame back, brought on by excesses, unnatural drains or the follies of youth that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his manly power and virility, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So, I have determined to send a copy of the prescription, free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope, to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men, and I am convinced it is the surest-acting combination for the cure of discouraged men with repeated failures may any man, a father who is weak and stop druging himself with harmful send them a copy in confidence, so that deficient manhood and vigor-failure ever put together.

I think I owe it to my fellow men to patent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest-acting, restorative, upbuilding SPOT-TOUCHING remedy ever devised, and so cure myself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop me a line like this: Mr. A. E. Robinson, 4721 Luck Bldg., Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid receipt in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope, free of charge.

PASSING THE RUSSIAN CUSTOMS.

Many Officials and Porters to Examine Baggage—Getting Passports.

The ordeal of the Russian customs can only be described as fearful and wonderful — from any point of view. A score of officials and twice as many special porters, writes a correspondent of the London Evening Standard, went systematically through every piece of luggage, large or small, of every passenger. Three officials and two porters was the average composition of the small parties that proceeded solemnly all around the great hall on the other side of the counter on which all our luggage was displayed, with us expectant or anxious passengers before it.

"Have you anything?" "No, nothing." Then another official puts it another way: "Have you anything new?" To which the natural reply was: "Well, what do you think? We come straight from London." From every passenger's luggage something or other was chosen at random and borne off in triumph to the assessor's table. So far as could be seen everything was carefully weighed and handed back to the owner on production of passports, without charge. But the officials certainly earned their pay, whatever it might be, if only by the exquisite acting of their ungrateful parts.

tion of passports, without charge, lesson in Russian officialdom. As the train entered the station all doors were locked and no one was permitted to descend until a gendarme with a couple of satellites had proceeded through all the departments and extracted a passport from each person. These were being dealt with in a separate room while we underwent the ordeal of the customs inspection.

After about an hour a little ticket window opened and we rushed tumultuously around it shouting out our names, a trying thing for an Englishman to do in a public place. As bad luck would have it, quite three-fourths of the passengers were non-Russians. Half a dozen Britishers, the same number of Frenchmen, and perhaps a dozen Russians; the rest, quite half a hundred, had names which were either German or Jewish, and often both.

Passports were handed out with extraordinary freedom, and many a man returned the paper he received with "Not mine" in various languages. For the distributor was a half literate and not wholly sober gendarme, rubly nosed and truculent, whose struggles with Babel of names—all written one way and pronounced quite another—necessitated the intervention of an officer who made a better hand of it, but not much. Finally the non-Russian passports went from hand to hand till they found the right owner.

Among the few Russian names called out was the magic one of "Count Tolstoy," and in its recipient I recognized the gentleman who, half an hour before had helped a couple of English girls out of trouble with the customs. They were evidently "song and dance professionals on their way to Moscow for the first time, and had all their stage wardrobe with them. As most of it was silk, and they could not speak a word of anything but English, the customs people were disposed to make a haul, under the impression, apparently that they had to do with French milliners smuggling trade goods.

Count Tolstoy, happening to notice the dilemma, went to the aid of the girls and a couple of words to the chief soon set them free from all trouble.

A HUSTLING COTTON TREE.

One Grew 7 Feet in a Month—Another 15 Feet in Three Months.

For general hustle in getting up in the world the Caravonica cotton tree is a wonder, says Woodcraft. So at least one would suppose from the reports of its growth that arrive from what may fairly be assumed as authoritative sources of information.

Here is the United States Consul-General, John P. Bray, sending from Melbourne, Australia, facts plus photographs concerning the quick action cotton trees grown by Dr. David Thomas of Cairns in the State of Queensland. He also says:

"A Caravonica cotton tree grown by Archdeacon Campbell at the back of the rectory at Cairns in almost pure sea sand is twelve months old, and from August, 1905, to December, 1906, it yielded 12 pounds of bolls."

An interesting letter has been received by Dr. Thomas from W. H. Bennis, Baracoa plantation, Cuba, stating that trees of Caravonica cotton grew from seed sent by Dr. Thomas to the height of 7½ feet, with 4 feet of spread, in forty four days, which means thirty four days of growth as ten days are required for germination. The writer also stated that the trees had more than sixty blossoms on and have created great interest in the island.

This phenomenal and luxuriant growth in Cuba of the Caravonica cotton is said also to be met with in Ceylon, where it grew 15 feet in three months.

Because of the estimated deficit in the operation of the Chilean state railways for 1907 the minister of public works has issued an order advancing the freight rates 30 per cent. The deficit in 1906 was $333,359 United States gold and the estimated deficit under the old rates was $4,920,000 United States gold.

Where there's a will there's always a way.

GREENLAND

Letters from Burton Rokes stationed at Brooklyn navy yard speak favorably of his progress and continued interest in the work he has entered upon, learning to be an electrician. He has been very well since he left home and likes his position very much. He expects to return home for ten days stay soon, but the leave of absence has been deferred until the first or middle of July.

The Grange calendar for May 5 gives the following programme: Singing; reading, Mrs. Charles Marden; recitation, Russell Barry; vocal solo, Thornton Weeks; discussion, "Should telephone rates be regulated by law?" C. H. Brackett, Dr. D. C. McLachlan, E. C. O'Leigh, W. R. Weeks, J. W. Schurman; singing, "May social;" ladies bring lunch for two.

Mrs. Mary Ordway is recovering and dined down stairs on Monday with her family. The trained nurse will leave this week.

The sacrament of the Lord's supper will be observed by the Congregational church next Sunday morning. Preparatory service was held at the parsonage on Friday afternoon.

CITY BRIEFS

May day and pay day.
The river is alive with pollock.
The furnace fire is still blazing.
The 9 o'clock club are having a gay season.
Winter still lingers in the lap of spring.
The price of coal has at last taken a drop.
Look in the Herald for your local and suburban news.
The liquor dealers are today doing business on new paper.
Have your shoes repaired at John Mott's, 24 Congress street.
Red Cross signs are getting numerous at railroad stations.
The present police force was fourteen years old last month.
There are several vacancies in the high school teaching staff.
April came in like a lamb, but it certainly went out like a lion.
The price of coal dropped in Boston as well as this city on Friday.
See little Miss Barrett swing clubs at the U. V. U. entertainment May 3.
The first of May and it is hoped that there will be a change of weather as well as a change of dates.
The usual few drunks and several lodgers were the occupants at the police station last night.
Thomas Lynch in recitations at the U. V. U. hall May 3.
The license dealers have a permit to start in business this morning at the old stands.
The skies went a good-bye to April. Hear the boys' quartet at the U. V. U. concert May 3.
The incandescent lights on Junius avenue are no more value than a candle in that locality.
A big crew of workmen are hustling the work of installing the new turntable at the railroad round house.
The contractors on the Parson avenue sewer are hurrying the work on Richards avenue before summer travel commences.
It's more like football temperature but the baseball fans shiver through the game just the same. You can't kill their enthusiasm.
The dear little mayflowers lift their cheery heads just as if they were not in danger of freezing to death. No complaints at the weather from them.
A number from this city will attend the fourteenth annual meeting of the New Hampshire Federation of Women's clubs at Nashua May 19 and 20.

Mr. Howard L. Tuttle of Freeport, Me., and Miss Jennie MacFown were the first couple.
Mr. Harry L. Dunlap of Brunswick and Miss Lorena MacFown were the second couple.

DOVER DOINGS

Dover, May 1.—In addition to the large number of scarlet fever cases prevailing in this city, as a result of which all schools and the public library have been closed during the past two weeks, 20 cases of measles were reported to the board of health up to last night, when the sub-committee on health of the school board at a special meeting decided to recommend that the schools and library be closed at least another week.
At the annual session of the department Council of Patriots Militant, and the Grand Encampment of New Hampshire Odd Fellows to be held at Odd Fellows' hall, this city, May 11 and 12, the programme will be as follows:

AT DARTMOUTH

The Prom show, "The King of U-Kan," will be produced May 19, the first night of Prom week. The music is by W. H. Golde, the lyrics by R. G. Reynolds and C. O. Libbey, Jr. The orchestrating has been done by G. L. Tracy, one of the finest orchestrators in New England, and the scores are being printed.
The cast has been definitely chosen, but those trying for the various parts are, F. A. Carroll, S. Pishon, W. S. Carlisle, R. G. Reynolds, A. P. Donovan, W. C. Rogers, J. E. Warren, J. W. Childs, R. S. Smith, F. H. Morawski, A. C. Keough, F. W. Grant and C. W. Tobin. There will be a sixteen piece orchestra, partly from the college, partly from Whittiers' of Montpelier. The first and last acts of the opera are prologue and epilogue. Their scene is in Hanover, and in them a successful attempt has been made to catch the local color. The second and middle act is placed on an imaginary South Sea island and deals with the adventures of two Dartmouth students on these islands. Amusing situations arise from the presence of an orang-outang and a South Sea princess. This act is a dramatic and fantastic extravaganza.
One of the best coaches in New England has been secured in George V. Lord of Cambridge, Mass., who will coach both chorus and principals. Mr. Lord has been identified with amateurs for only three years, has had a Broadway experience of fifteen years, six years of which were spent as stage manager of the Grau opera company, New York. He has a repertoire of 180 operas, in which he often takes part, and his work is always well done. He is a playwright, as well as an actor of experience. Mr. Lord is now going in distinctly for college work.

Secretary Hopkins has gone on his second trip to the western alumni associations. He took with him 125 new stereopticon views of the college grounds and buildings, besides a number of the old pictures shown on his initial trip during the examination period. The alumni associations of Pittsburg, Cleveland, Oak Park, Ill., and Cincinnati have made definite arrangements for his visits and have made special plans to have the seniors of various high schools and academies in their cities and vicinities to attend the lectures, which will be given as "Dartmouth smokers." Pittsburg will be the first stop, where Secretary Hopkins will be the guest of the alumni association of that city. In Cleveland a Dartmouth luncheon will follow the lecture. At a special meeting of the Oak Park Dartmouth club Mr. Hopkins will be the guest of honor and will give the same lecture at the club rooms of the association. Returning east he will stop off at Cincinnati and will possibly make two or three stops at different cities before coming back to Hanover next Wednesday.

At a regular meeting of the academic faculty in the library of the Tuck school, a number of important changes pertinent to the registration, attendance and scholarship of the undergraduates were voted upon and passed, to take effect at the beginning of the college year 1909-10. In particular, the final revision of the cut system, bringing about important changes in the required attendance at chapel and daily recitations, is the outcome of the work started last November by the standing committee on regulations consisting of Professors Dixon, Reeves, Lyman, Stewart and the Dean. Last fall general dissatisfaction was caused when over ninety per cent. of the undergraduates left Hanover to attend the Hanover game, so that it was impossible to hold recitations on that day, and then a plea for more leniency in the allotted number of cuts by a large number of students has done much to cause the new rules.

A GOOD PERFORMANCE

Hampton Actors Make a Big Hit in Every Way

The minstrel performance recently given in the town of Hampton by a leading club of young men is pronounced as a most wonderful performance by a crew of amateurs, especially the vocal work of the soloists, quartet and chorus. The company was drilled under the direction of Ralph S. Parker of this city and he is receiving much warm praise for the able manner in which he brought out the work.
One of the most pleasing features of the occasion was the rendition of the beautiful song composed by Messrs. Red E. Hasty and Ralph S. Parker of this city entitled "When the Autumn Leaves are Turning Red and Gold." The whole show was a credit to those who assisted and gave evidence that there is lots of good talent in the old town.
